Leaders,

Big, colossal thanks to you for how you've led, served, and loved over the last two days. I'm grateful for your help and grateful for how easy you made my job.

As you process your shift - whether it was one or all five - I'd love to get some feedback from you. What worked? What didn't? What - if we went to DPAC again - would make things run smoother?

Jot down those thoughts - no detail is too insignificant - and let me know how it went.

I may not answer you immediately, since I'm about to head into my Christmas Eve coma, but I'll assure you that once we start debriefing in early January, I'll utilize every piece of feedback you can give me.

Again, thanks for your servants' hearts. I loved watching you lead!
